

Frank Hamming is a lawyer at De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek, specialized in complex public and private M&A transactions. He advises listed companies, large multinationals and private equity funds on major M&A transactions in the Netherlands and abroad. He also regularly advises listed companies on shareholder activism and response situations, including hostile takeover bids.

Frank regularly lectures on the legal and strategic aspects of M&A transactions and shareholder activism at the VU University, Rijksuniversiteit Groningen and McGill University.
